DORIS VISITS HER PAINTING

By Tom King

DorisAndStephen

CityHall

Doris Howard, one of our own resident artists, recently visited Supervisor Stephen Sherrill's office, where one of her paintings graces the wall. Her good friend and fellow resident, Margaret Jacobs, went with Doris to San Francisco's City Hall and had a staff member use her phone to take this photo of Doris with Stephen at City Hall on Monday, May 11, 2026. How did this come about? Well, during the Morgan Building Centenary Celebration, Stephen Sherrill spoke at the ceremony and later toured the building, including the art gallery in the 2nd floor corridor. He asked if he could borrow one of the paintings, and Doris said sure. Doris tells me he picked the best of the series.

YOGA WITH CLAUDIA

By Tom King

Claudia

Our "Activity of the Month" for June is Yoga with Claudia (<https://www.claudiabartsch.com/>). This is already one of the most popular activities at Heritage on the Marina - so popular that an additional weekly session was added a few weeks ago! The person primarily responsible for this popularity is the instructor, Claudia, and this is the story in her own words:

I was born in a small town in Germany and lived my early adult life in Berlin. From there I moved to the US when I was 29 and lived mostly in SF, a city I still love dearly, and where I started yoga, which has become my way of life.

At its heart, yoga is about creating balance and peace—with ourselves, our bodies, each other, and the planet. It supports a sense of inner steadiness that helps us navigate life's ups and downs with more equanimity and calm.

In 2016, I was certified as a Yoga Therapist, a profession distinct from yoga teaching. I learned to adapt yoga practices for individuals facing physical and mental challenges. I spend half my time working with individuals in private sessions, supporting them as they recover from conditions ranging from depression and anxiety to back pain and cancer.

The other half of my time, I teach at Senior Centers - at Heritage, at the Carlisle, and at the Towers. I believe that Yoga Therapy can greatly help the aging population, as we all face more issues as we grow older.

My modest lifestyle means I can live in a relaxed and easy manner, making time every day to meditate and practice physical yoga to maintain my own inner steadiness. Bicycling is my mode of transportation, which gives me a sense of independence and freedom. In my free time, I love hiking in nature. I also try to bring nature into my home by having a crazy number of house plants!

WELCOME SANDIE GUTCHER

By Tom King

Sandie

Please welcome our new resident, Sandie Gutcher. Sandie was born in San Francisco, grew up in Santa Rosa, and recently lived in the Russian Hill area.

After graduating from high school in Santa Rosa, she entered the Order of St. Ursula (Ursulines) in Santa Rosa. After two years in the Novitiate, she moved to New Rochelle, New York to begin college, majoring in French. She finished her college education at Marillac College in St. Louis, MO. She moved to San Francisco, teaching first in elementary and later in high school, and then left the convent. Sandie says that a highlight of teaching came the day students changed their minds about gay people in a positive way.

Sandie later earned a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from the California School of Professional Psychology; her dissertation was on the identity process of young adults who had been adopted at birth. She was the first one in the country to make a distinction between relinquishment and adoption.

While at CSPP, Sandie married David Arnold, an artist. They had a son, D. Alexander Arnold, who lives in San Francisco; and he and his wife, Gillian, have a one-year-old daughter, Imogen (did you see cute Imogen at lunch the other day?).

As Sandie is getting settled and oriented here, please say hi when you get a chance!
